Prologue

This is the first short story from 'The Piggie Family Tales' by Dave Donicci. Each story is about a family of pigs known as 'piggis' who live in a village called PiggieParadise. They each have their own individual characteristics. It is likely that someone you know will be identified through the characters in these stories.

The family consists of a mother, PiggPrincess, a father PiggPete and six children, three girls and three boys. The girls are PiggPink, PiggPlump and PiggPeaches. The boys are PiggPatch, PiggPirate and PiggPanda. The family lives in a small village called PiggParadise. Their house, PiggPalace, is dome shaped with round and oval windows and oval doors to match the body contours of the occupants. Each character is described in more detail below.

Mother - PiggPrincess

She is a very quiet, modest and homely kind of pig, and a wonderful mother. She keeps her home in a spotlessly clean condition and is a very good cook. She is a lovely soft pink in colour, without a blemish.

Father - Piggipete

He is a pig from Holland, who decided to live in England because he had difficulty understanding the Dutch language. He is totally black from his nose to the tip of his curly tail. He was born in December around the feast of St. Nicholas, and was named after Black Peter who helps St. Nicholas each year to deliver gifts to all the children in Holland. He sometimes wears clogs.

Children

PiggiPlump -

She is pink except for her tail and the tips of her ears which are absolutely black. Her favourite pastime is eating - almost anything. She always carries with her a little red bag containing a reserve stock of food.

Piggipeaches -

She is a most beautiful pig, almost completely pink with just the hint of white here and there to suggest 'peaches and cream'. She is quite vain and loves to pose. Wherever she goes she takes her mirror and comb with her.

Piggipink -

She takes after her mother, both in looks and behaviour. She is a very shy and quiet little pig. She enjoys art, reading and music.

Piggipatch -

He is mostly black like his father, except for a large pink patch on both sides of his body. He likes playing outdoor games, especially cricket. He loves to eat beetroot.

PiggiPirate -

He is a playful character, of mixed colour but with a very distinguishable black patch over his left eye. He is always playing practical jokes. He loves to play 'Hide and Seek'.

PiggiPanda -

Because of his coloured markings you would think that he was a panda, just like his cousins from China. He is an uncomplicated, thoughtful and kind pig. He loves his mummy, is well behaved and is always helping other people.
